Downloading Documents

Federal student aid sometimes requests that students verify the information they put on their FAFSAs. If you are selected for verification, you will receive an encrypted email from VFAO informing you of which document you will need to download and complete. Usually these documents request that you verify citizenship or information about your income or the members of your household. If you get a message like this, take care of it immediately. You will not be eligible for financial aid until you submit the verification document. Please consult with your financial aid advisor to be sure you fill out the form correctly. In addition to verification forms, you can also find forms to request additional aid due to a change in income and forms to request a change in dependency status.

You can find these forms and documents at
<https://atsinstitute.vfao.com/formsdocuments/default.aspx>

Once you have downloaded and completed the form, please turn it in to your financial aid advisor for review and upload. If you have any questions about the forms that have been requested of you, please see your financial aid advisor.
